YOUR EYES

Do you have pain in or about the eyes? Do your eyes tire easily, or are you subject to headaches or nervousness? Any of these symptoms may come from eyestrain.

You may see perfectly distinctly and yet suffer from eyestrain. If you have only a slight defect of vision, the muscles of your eyes may bring about a correct focus by continual effort, but this undue exertion will produce eyestrain.

If you think you have symptoms of eyestrain let us make an authoritative examination at once.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINTS.

Sore Throat.

The most frequent cause of distress or discomfort in the throat is exposure to cold and wet. Other conditions cause sore throat, such as exposure to infection. It may be of gouty or rheumatic origin. It may be excited by local irritants, such as hot drinks or the inhalation of noxious gases.

In mild cases of sore throat a tangle of a saturated solution of boric acid, used every four hours, will give relief. In severe cases the application to the neck of cloths wrung out of cold water proves grateful. Sucking small bits of ice affords much relief. Internal treatment is needed. For this a sedlitz powder is very useful or a dose of salts upon rising in the morning. If, however, there is any fever or the tonsils are red and swollen or show tiny yellow or white spots on their surface, send as soon as possible for a physician.

Wonderful Man.

"Where is he from?"
"I don't know, but I think he was raised on a desert island."
"What in the world makes you think that?"
"He says no woman ever made a fool of him."—Houston Post.

While He Waited in the Parlor.
Mr. Sooper (to her kid brother)—
May I hope to see your sister pretty soon? Kid Brother—You'll see her pretty, all right. She's been fixin' up to beat the band.—Exchange.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINTS.

Care of Babies.

An authority on children's diseases makes the following useful "do not" suggestion in caring for babies:

- Do not sneeze or cough in the baby's face.
- Do not kiss the baby on the mouth or allow any one else to do so.
- Do not fail to protect the baby's eyes from bright light.
- Do not raise the baby without supporting its back.
- Do not allow the baby to go even one day without a bowel movement.
- Do not excite the baby during or immediately after nursing.
- Do not forget that vomiting is usually caused from overfeeding.
- Do not forget that diseases of the eye can be prevented by scrupulous care.
- Do not forget that out of every 100 breast fed babies seven die in the first year and that out of every 100 bottle fed babies thirty die in the first year.

BENNINGTON BRIEFS

News of the Town and Village Told Briefly for Busy Readers

The incomparable screen star Theda Bara in "The Tiger Woman" in a role fraught with thrills and tense situations in six gripping parts at the Harte Theatre tomorrow afternoon and evening. Theda Bara in "The Tiger Woman" at Harte Theatre tomorrow.

Christopher J. Wheeler, formerly of Bennington, died suddenly this morning at his home in Schenectady from an attack of indigestion. He was about 64 years old and left Bennington some 25 years ago. He is survived by a wife, formerly Miss Mary Gullitman of Bennington and one daughter and one son.

Mike Berliney, who has conducted a tailor shop on the second floor of the Xovack building has closed out his business and is going to New York where he will enlist in the New York state troops. Mr. Berliney's brother-in-law is a captain of one of the New York city companies and the former Bennington man expects to become a member of his relative's organization. Mr. Berliney is of Hungarian blood, was born in one of the Austrian sea ports on the Adriatic.

One of the enjoyable features of the Foresters' fair which closed Saturday evening was the singing of the male quartette consisting of John McCormick, Russell Carpenter, Roy Clum and William Shaw. The selections given by the four young men each evening were deservedly applauded. They have formed a permanent organization which should make them available for future musical entertainments in the village. Mr. Shaw's solo was another pleasing number and the work of the quartette was highly appreciated.

Emma Leonore MacAlarney, who is touring the state under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage Association spoke to an audience of three hundred in Middlebury a few days ago. Miss MacAlarney will address the Women Voters League of Bennington, on Friday evening, April twentieth at eight o'clock in the Young Woman's club rooms. Let Bennington do as well as Middlebury and better. Every one, men and women, are invited to hear this brilliant speaker. It will be an opportunity that no one can afford to lose. Come and bring your friends. Admission free.

In the Arena of Sports

A Great First Baseman.

Hal Chase of the Cincinnati Reds not only is the champion batsman of the National league, but also he is regarded as the star first baseman of that circuit. His fielding average last season did not equal that of Jake Daubert of the Robins or Konetchy of the Braves, but he made plays on frequent occasions that convinced baseball critics that he stood in a class by himself.

HAL CHASE.

Chase, when he played with the Yankees, was the best first baseman in the American league, but his indifferent work at times made him lose favor so that when he jumped the White Sox to draw a big salary from the Buffalo Bisons his departure wasn't regretted. In fact, many persons believed when he signed with the Cincinnati Reds a year ago that he never would display his former skill, either as a batsman or as a fielder.

Chase changed his tactics as soon as he put on a Cincinnati uniform. He cut out his foolishness and buckled down to the hardest kind of work. He finished last season with the championship batting average of .330 for 142 games.

Golf at Atlantic City.
The Country Club of Atlantic City has selected May 3, 4 and 5 as the dates for its annual spring golf tournament. Six sixteens will be provided for, as usual, and there will be a handicap on the last day.

Babe Adams Goes to Minors.

Charles B. (Babe) Adams, formerly pitching star for the Pittsburgh National team, has signed a contract with the St. Joseph Western league team.

Neglect to Drink Water a Common Dietetic Fault

If you would have health you must drink good water and plenty of it. Just now, when spring is beginning operations, Dr. Nature shows the way. Says the Country Gentleman. It's water everywhere and in everything. Man consists of 88 1/2 per cent water, and water makes 70 per cent of the entire body weight. The habits of man's cells are aquatic. Recent medical books written by the highest authorities of America and Europe—books published within the past two years—give new emphasis to the need and value of water in the human system. One of the most authoritative states that water is entitled to rank as a food because it enters into the structural composition of all foods as well as into the tissues of the body. One of the most universal dietetic faults is neglect to take enough water into the system.

The time is coming when every enlightened farmer will have his water supply inspected regularly. In our better days we shall have a service that will give to every section an examination and supervision of water used by human beings. In some states analysis may be had at small expense and it is flying in the face of Providence not to profit by this. The cost is nothing as compared to the benefits. And keep this in your mind. You cannot maintain your health and efficiency unless you drink good water freely.

ASPIRATION.

Ah, when shall all men's good
Be each man's rule and universal peace
Lie like a shaft of light across the land,
And like a lane of beams athwart the sea
Through all the circle of the golden year?
—Tennyson.

She Got Acquainted.

She is a sociable little girl of six, but her first day at school gave her little opportunity to meet the other children she did not know. The second day she came home at recess with a black eye. She had fallen from the "teeter totter" at school. Her first thoughts were of the pain, but soon she surprised her mother by saying: "As soon as I fell all the other children came right up. It was the quickest way of getting acquainted with all of them."—Indianapolis News.

Suspicious.

A WORD ON ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Accidents cannot be avoided. Sickness is always with us.

In spite of every human effort, millions of men meet with accidental injuries and sickness every year.

Millions of dollars are lost through reduced incomes or are paid out for medical and hospital expenses.

Some think all they can do is to trust to luck and take their turn when fate decrees,

BUT

You can provide for an uninterrupted income while you are helpless through injury or sickness.

It costs so little to protect your income and to provide for a substantial fund in case of accidental death.

Men insure their lives and property, and rightly so.

Wise men also insure their earning capacity.
